The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 and 6-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Marihart '307, for the reasons given in the last Office Action. Applicant's argument, that an important distinction between Marihart '307 and the method and composition of the present application is that Marihart '307 discloses an extraction method that employs a first treatment with a hydroxyl acid followed by a second treatment with salts of the hydroxyl acid, is not convincing, since applicant's claims do not exclude the second treatment with salts of the hydroxyl acid. Applicant's argument, that Marihart '307 discloses an extraction mixture with a pH of above about 2.5 and that, by contrast, the present process recites a reaction mixture with pH below 2.5, is not convincing. The term "pH of about 2.5" would embrace pH values as low as 2.2 or 2.3. Accordingly, a pH of "above about 2.5" as disclosed by Marihart '307 would embrace a pH value of 2.4, which would be embraced by applicant's claims. In any event, Marihart '307 discloses at col. 2, lines 62-64 that by maintaining a pH above about 2.5, extraction of humic acid is avoided, while relatively complete extraction may be accomplished. It is clear from such disclosure in Marihart '307 that the pH could below 2.5, but that such a low pH would result in the extraction of humic acid and incomplete extraction. It is well-settled that negative teachings nevertheless constitute teachings upon which a case of obviousness may be based. Applicant's argument, that the presently claimed invention adds metals is conducted at higher pH values than in Marihart '307, is not convincing, since the claims do not require such limitation. Applicant's presentation of supplemental experiments supporting unexpected results is not convincing, since such experiments are not in declaratory form.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
